

PROTECT YOUR MODULAR PROJECTS WITH THE DURO-LAST® MODULAR MEMBRANE

Why choose Duro-Last as your modular roofing system partner?

Because we offer unparalleled support and provide peace of mind with the proven performance of Duro-Last.

Choosing a watertight roofing system for your modular building projects has never been easier with the Duro-Last Modular Membrane. And Duro-Last, with the support of a network of authorized contractors, can assist you every step of the way!

- After notification of the project, a Duro-Last representative can supply a list of local authorized contractors to the building owner, or the owner's General Contractor.
- Once the owner selects a bid, the modular manufacturer can order needed materials from Duro-Last under a stock number and the modular manufacturer oversees the initial installation on the individual units in their factory.
- The modular field crew sets the units on site and the selected authorized Duro-Last contractor seams together the material.
- Once the seaming is complete, the General Contractor will add any needed parapet walls, plumbing, and rooftop units before the authorized Duro-Last contractor installs any final curbs and accessories.
- When the project is complete, the contractor submits the material order to Duro-Last using the project name and address.
- A final inspection by Duro-Last is coordinated by the authorized contractor and a Duro-Last warranty is issued.
